

THE WELL-ATTENDED PRESS CLUB FAIR.

A BIG CROWD THERE LAST NIGHT—SOME GENEROUS VISITORS.

The Press Club Fair in the Grand Central Palace attracted a large number of visitors last evening than on any previous one since the fair was opened. The flower booth was decorated in honor of Princeton College. This was appreciated by a large number of Princeton men who visited the fair in the evening. At the back of the booth was a broad orange colored silk streamer with the word "Princeton" in black letters.

Mrs. John W. Keller, who had charge of the autograph and photograph booth, had two generous patrons last evening. They were Jacob Rubino and Dr. Allan McLean Hamilton, who paid $50 and $25, respectively, for two photographs of an actress. Another generous visitor in the evening was Miss Helen Dauphine, who gave one of the lower proscenium boxes in T. Henry French's new American Theatre for the opening night, next Thursday. The box will be sold at auction on Tuesday evening. William Easton, of Tattersall's, has been asked to act as auctioneer.

It was announced that Oliver Summer Trull was leading in the contest for the porcelain tankard which is to be awarded to the man who is decided to be the handsomest man at the fair. The special attractions at the fair are the exhibit of ancient and modern printing machinery in operation on the ground floor; the women's art bazaar; and hall concerts on the main floor. The school exhibition is in the third floor, and the book collection on the fifth floor.

The concert yesterday afternoon was furnished by Eppinger's orchestra. The evening concert was furnished by the 7th Regiment Band. This evening the concert will be furnished by Innes' band.

THE GERMAN WARSHIPS SAIL AWAY.

The two German warships which took part in the Naval Review—the Kaiserin Augusta and the Seeadler—left their moorings in the North River late last evening and after saluting the United States and other vessels still at anchor, and exchanging a parting salute with the forts, passed out to sea. The Kaiserin Augusta goes to Bermuda and the Seeadler goes on a long cruise.

CONCERT AT ELDORADO THIS AFTERNOON.

The beautiful Eldorado grounds, on the Palisades, opposite Forty-second, will be open to the public this afternoon, when the first open-air concert of the season will be given. The management announces music by the Eldorado band of fifty pieces, W. W. Lowitz, conductor, and the appearance of Miss Ida Klein and Count Behrens, soloists, the latter of the Metropolitan Opera House, and Thomas Short, comedian. These concerts will be continued every Sunday during the season.
